

Transcription of Title Defense

Group 5

Summary:

With the rise of technology and the internet, e-learning has revolutionized the way we approach education and professional development. Our panelist recommended that we should make a system an E-learning system for Technological University of the Philippines- Visayas. According to instructor Rodelin Tolentino, he suggested that when we make a title, we should not abbreviate words, in a formal research there's no abbreviation. After instructor Rodelin, Sir Rex Romero recommended to us that, based on the three-title proposed we recommend that we combine the three title. He said that with regards to its functionality we can make the three-title into one relating to learning materials, a system that can produce quiz, syllabus, checker a sms system. A NEO-LMS kind of system. Afterwards, instructor Mandia said that the one thing on their mind is to combine the other two making the other system like add on to the main system, like score generator that automatically send sms to the students score. Generate test paper, get the score, automatically send sms score to the student; example is "Mr. Yoshiyuki your score is 0/0". Subsequently, sir Ramon added that we should take sir Julius and sir Mandia as our adviser for our research. He also added that we need to re do our research since it is fitted into one system. He also said that we need to breakdown each functionality and features of the system in the next upcoming term. After the discussion with us, sir Mandia added that the out come of our system is like an E-learning system. Sir Rodelin also added that they want it to combine, and the title will be changed but he wrote us a new title. After the discussion with us, they let us go out and discuss the things they want, and also, we discuss the thing we want. After the panelists arrived at a conclusion, they made a choice to us that we should make an E-Learning system just like NEO-LMS. Sir Rodelin also confirmed that they want this title and suggest that the RRL should be related to E-Learning and we should change the objective. End of the Title Defense.